

Community Canvassing Intern

Kansas City and St. Louis, Missouri (in-person)

Job Type: Part-Time Internship (up to 10 hours/week)

Pay: $25/hour

Benefits: None

Purpose of Position

The Missouri Workers Center is seeking Community Canvassing Interns to support our community base-building efforts. Interns will help build public awareness of MWC campaigns, expand our community supporter list, and engage directly with people at public events. This is an ideal opportunity for students interested in labor organizing, local politics, and public engagement.

Primary Responsibilities

- Table and canvass at community events, festivals, and public gatherings.
- Engage community members in conversations about worker rights and campaigns.
- Collect contact information to grow our supporter and volunteer lists.
- Accurately track and input collected data.
- Represent Missouri Workers Center in a positive and professional manner.
- Additional opportunities:
 - Attend worker and community meetings, rallies, and public actions.
 - Participate in MWC organizer-training sessions.
 - Learn directly from experienced labor organizers.

Qualifications

- Strong communication and interpersonal skills.
- Comfortable approaching and engaging with the public.
- Reliable and punctual, with attention to detail.
- Commitment to social and economic justice.
- Multilingual candidates are strongly encouraged to apply (please note this in your application).
- Ability to work evenings or weekends as events require.

Why Apply?

- Gain hands-on experience in organizing and movement-building.
- Build relationships with workers and community activists.
- Learn organizing skills you can carry into future roles.

To Apply

Send a short résumé and 2–3 sentences on why you're interested to Apply@moworkers.org with the subject line: Community Canvassing Intern Application.

About Missouri Workers Center

The Missouri Workers Center is an organization of low-wage workers—Black, white, and brown, urban and rural—dedicated to fighting racism and winning economic justice for all.
